The Route to Montana

WALLA WALLA, May 7, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

A traveller to Montana by the line of the Columbia, upon arriving at this point, finds himself involved in a maze of doubts and uncertainties in regard to the best road thither. He will find, apparently, no two men to agree. Each favors some particular route, and abuses all others, so that every road has many opponents and few defenders. In this strait, no inconsiderable number of travellers have taken the stage to Boise city, thence to Virginia city and thence to their respective destinations, preferring to make a detour of 400 additional miles rather than to undertake a journey over routes so little known, and about which there are so many conflicting statements.

Taking Hell Gate in the Bitter Root Valley, Montana—which has a central position and good roads leading to the various mining districts—as the terminus, let us compare the several routes.

1. The shortest in distance is undoubtedly that via Lewiston, running nearly due East and West. From Lewiston to Hell Gate is about 200 miles. Steamers can run to Lewiston during the four months of March, April, May and June. The remainder of the year, goods would have to be landed at Wallula and transported overland to Lewiston, 120 miles, making 320 miles of land transportation by this route. But no road has yet been opened. There is nothing but an Indian pack trail leading across the mountains which is closed by snow nine months in the year, and is only practicable for pack animals during July, August and September.

An appropriation of $50,000 has been granted by Congress to open a road from Lewiston to Virginia city. Vague reports are in circulation concerning the discovery of an easy pass, etc., and great results are anticipated. Judging from the great altitude and rugged and broken character of the mountains and the long duration of snow, it is safe to assert that nothing can be accomplished with this amount. It is too much to have to throw away, but not enough to effect anything.

2. The Cœur D'Alene route, mis-called the Mullan road, starts from the mouth of the Palouse, on Snake river, leads in a Northeastern direction until after it crosses the Spokane river, thence turns to the East and crosses the Bitter Root mountains by the line of the Cœur D'Alene and St. Regis Borgia rivers. The distance from the mouth of the Palouse to Hell Gate is 330 miles. Steamers can ascend the Snake river but four months in the year, and during the remainder, goods must be landed at Wallula, fifty miles lower down, making 380 miles land transportation. The greatest obstacle to this route also is the snow, which renders it impassible for six months, from November to April inclusive. In the Spring, from May to July, the rise of the mountain torrents, through whose narrow and choked valleys the road is conducted, interposes almost as effectual a barrier as the snow. The road built by Capt. John Mullan crosses and recrosses these streams no less than ninety-one times in a distance of 60 miles. Upon the melting of the snow they become unfordable, and the road in some places is even submerged, and excessively wet and muddy throughout. The bridges built by Mullan have, many of them, been washed away. The road is now blocked up by fallen timber, and the best estimates fix upon the sum of $10,000 as required to put it in a passable state. Nearly $300,000 were expended on this road by the Government. To-day it is impassable for wagons.

3. The route by White Bluffs and Pen d'Oreille Lake is by far the most circuitous of the three. From White Bluffs to Hell Gate the distance may be called 430 miles, although the friends of the route claim that it is but 380 miles. But the natural advantages, with the exception of that distance, are all in its favor. The Pen d'Oreille Lake and Flathead river give 130 miles of steam navigation, leaving from 250 to 300 miles of land transportation. And the distinguishing feature of this route is that there are no mountains to cross, and that it is open at all seasons. Of course during the brief period when the Lake and rivers are frozen, it would be closed by ice, but that would only amount to from six to eight weeks each winter.

With the completion of the boat on Pen d'Oreille Lake, this route will give access to Montana at least two months earlier in the spring and two months later in the fall than either the Cœur D'Alene route, (mis-called the Mullan road) or that via Lewiston. The Columbia is navigable to White Bluffs at all seasons.

To recapitulate: The Lewiston route is only 200 miles long at high water, and 320 miles at low water, is open but three months, July, August and September, which is after the water is down, and there is, now, nothing but a pack trail over very high and rugged mountains. For expressmen and travelers without much baggage it is probably the most expeditious route while it is open.

The Cœur d'Alene route (miscalled the Mullan Road) has from 330 to 380 miles of land transportation, according to the stage of water, is open six months, during two of which it is much obstructed by high water. If the roads were cleaned out, it would probably be the quickest and best route during four or five months, from June to October.

The Pen d'Oreille route is open four months when the others are closed, has the advantages of 130 miles of water transportation and no mountains. The land transportation is but 250 to 300 miles, over a very favorable country. It is consequently the most reliable route.

HAZARD STEVENS.

NOT STATESMANLIKE.—The Index, published by a very pink of a Democrat, speaking of the late victory over rebellion, says:

> But with all the magnitude of its military manœuvres, and all the martial genius it has developed, it was, as a measure of statesmanship, a gigantic failure.

The Index acknowledges the victory for the Union to have been a brilliant one, but thinks it was a failure so far as statesmanship is concerned. The Index thinks with the Democratic party of two years ago that it was not statesmanlike to save the Union; but that it would have been eminently statesmanlike to permit the results to go the other way—to the establishment of the Southern Confederacy. That is the logical deduction from the language of the Index. And it would have been Democratic, too.

COLORED NEIGHBORS.—The new residence of General Grant at Washington is one of a block built ten years ago by Senators Douglas, Rice and Breckinridge, as their metropolitan residence while in office. Government has used the whole block as a hospital during the rebellion. The house adjoining General Grant's belongs to Alfred Lee, a sagacious and highly respected colored man, a flour dealer, reputed to be worth $200,000.—Exchange.

"A nigger worth $200,000 living in Breckinridge's house," exclaimed an old Copperhead on reading the above the other day. "And next door to General Grant?" "All so," replied a Union man," and worse still for you Coppers, President Johnson makes speeches to the "niggers," invites them into the White House, shakes hands with them and assures them that he is their friend." "If that is so," exclaims Copper, with a wail of indignant despair, "I'm d—d of I ever vote for any Democrat that endorses Johnson, or wants to go to Congress in such an abolition hole."—Statesman.

ROUTES TO MONTANA.—We publish to-day two interesting communications on this subject, both written by gentlemen who are well qualified to treat of the subject whereof they write. Their judgment, it will be seen, is decidedly in favor of the Pen d'Oreille route. It has long been evident that if we are to reach Montana at all, so as to compete with those who trade by way of the Missouri river, the Pen d'Oreille route must be adopted.

POLITICS IN THE MOUNTAINS.—

> The politics of all the mountain districts is Democratic. The free uncontaminated mountain air stimulates the growth of freedom of speech and of the press.—Herald.

Notable instances of "mountain politics," are to be found in the cases of Western Virginia, East Tennessee, Northern Alabama and Northern Georgia: but in all these cases, the hardy, brave free mountain men repudiated secesh Democracy, and fought for the Union. The Mountain Districts of Oregon, will stand by the Union ticket.—Statesman.

A Vote for D. J. O'Meara.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for repudiation of the National debt—for he says if the Democracy gets into power, they will cancel the public debt in thirty days WITHOUT ANY TAX.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote in condemnation of common schools for American children—for he declares them a public curse.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for a man who has a most rancorous hate of the Union and all the Union's defenders.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for a traitor who refused to subscribe allegiance to the United States and "rendered as a reason for such refusal that he was "NOT IN THE HABIT OF COMMITTING PERJURY."

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for the man who bestowed upon Union soldiers, every vile epithet which his billingsgate vocabulary could furnish.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for an avowed and notorious rebel-sympathiser.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for the Democratic editor who in December, 1861, approvingly published the following stanza of poetry, written by an Oregon Democrat:

> Of Valiant chieftains, too, we boast
> Who fought and bled amid the host—
> A brave and gallant band—
> Not Wellington, nor Bonaparte,
> BUT DAVIS, LEE AND BEAUREGARD
> The glory of the land.

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for the traitor who said only last February that "HE (Jeff. Davis,) IS INNOCENT OF ANY OFFENSE OR CRIME KNOWN TO OUR CONSTITUTION OR LAWS."

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for the traitor who, in November, 1861, said: "There are NO PROVISIONS IN THE CONSTITUTION by which such a rebellion as the one now upon us, can be put down WITHOUT VIOLATING ITS OWN PROVISIONS."

A vote for D. J. O'Meara is a vote for the traitor who, in 1861, complimented Jo. Lane when that secessionist said in the United States Senate that, "THE UNION HAS BEEN IN FACT BROKEN UP." D. J. O'Meara complimented Jo. Lane for that utterance, and for saying in the same speech that, "Virginia, North Carolina and all the slave States would go out of this Union and into one of their own, forming A GREAT, HOMOGENEOUS, AND GLORIOUS SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY." D. J. O'Meara complimented Jo. Lane for saying in the same speech that, "JEFFERSON DAVIS IS THE PUREST AND BRAVEST OF PATRIOTS." D. J. O'Meara, for [illegible] utterances in the United States Senate in 1861, called the secessionist, Jo. Lane, THE NESTOR OF OREGON DEMOCRACY.

BAD LUCK.—The Idaho correspondent of the Sacramento Union says that Hill Beachy stocked the road from Star City, Humboldt county, to Ruby City, and undertook to run a line of stages, but twice lost all his stock, and finally had to abandon it with a loss of eighty-seven fine horses.

GENERAL SHERIDAN after his [illegible] tour, stated his opinion, succinctly and forcibly, as follows: "If I owned hell and Texas, I would rent Texas and live at the other place." Just like him—always running into the hottest fire.

The Negro Suffrage Bugbear.

The Democracy tell us that in the present dispute between the President and Congress they stand with the Executive 'because he is in favor of a white man's government; because he is laboring to stay the tide of abolition fanaticism; because he is opposed to negro suffrage and negro equality and because he is making every possible exertion to prevent the general degradation that would result from the establishment of impartial suffrage and the recognition of equal rights.' Many Democrats, however, are disposed to yield all that is claimed for the negro except the ballot The party in this State (though it is not wholly so elsewhere) is decided in its opposition to negro suffrage, now and for all time. We do not object to this; but we do object to that dishonesty which claims that President Johnson takes the Democratic view of this question. The President in his speeches and letters has repeatedly committed himself to the doctrine of negro suffrage, and no man, except perhaps Sumner, has more boldly avowed himself in favor of it. He has said that if he were in Tennessee, he would vote for the enfranchisement of the blacks; he has written to the Governor of Mississippi urging him to allow the negroes of that State to vote; he has addressed colored delegations telling them that he looked forward hopefully to the time when they might participate in the affairs of government. How manifestly dishonest, then, is it for Democrats to use the name of President Johnson to aid them in securing a political victory, claiming that he is opposed to negro suffrage! The truth is Congress has never declared in favor of giving the ballot to the negro, while the President has done so. Even if it were true that the Radicals are in favor of it, wherein would they differ on this matter from Mr Johnson?

It would be well for those who are intending to vote with the Democracy on the plea that that party sustains the President in opposing negro suffrage, to understand where they are. Andrew Johnson favors the principle of negro suffrage in the abstract, and advocates its adoption by State action Congress has no idea of forcing it on the South. In the report of the Reconstruction Committee, which embodies the Congressional plan of restoration, negro suffrage is not mentioned If there are radicals who want impartial suffrage, there is the Pr[illegible] at who wants it too. The negro suffrage bugbear is not the most important issue; the question is whether the guidance of public affairs shall remain with loyal men, or [illegible] control.

MR. JACOBS' SPEECH.—We had the pleasure, last evening, of hearing a portion of Mr Jacobs' speech, which was attentively listened to by a large audience at the Lincoln House The speaker made no attempt at oratorical flourish—which, by the way, [illegible]—but he reviewed the history of the Union party and the [illegible] show ing beyond cavil [illegible] that the [illegible] had preserved the Union in spite of the combined forces of the rebels and copperheads. He said the Union party could not, and would not forget that history; that Copperheads could never escape the deformity and damning character of their record. He [illegible] the charge that the Union party were "in favor of social negro equality, and pronounced it both absurd and insulting to the intelligence of the people Referring to the [illegible] of Johnson by the Copperheads, he said the Union party endorsed whatever of good there is in Johnson, and whatever of bad there is in him, the Copperheads were willing to endorse and were welcome to endorse, as much as they pleased.

Every thinking man who heard the speech went away entirely satisfied that it would be hard to answer. Several other gentlemen made brief remarks after Mr. Jacobs closed, but no one entered upon any extended discussion.

The first proposition of the Reconstruction Committee is to embody the principles of the Civil Rights Bill in the organic law. This [illegible] that the President was right in vetoing that bill on the ground that there was no authority in the Constitution for its passage. If the germ of the Civil Rights bill be already in the organic law, what [illegible] is there for this one [illegible]—Alta California.

The Alta, we believe, held that slavery was abolished by the proclamation of President Lincoln; why did it favor the constitutional amendment abolishing it? The point is here, the amendment was adopted to prevent any controversy about slavery from arising hereafter; it is desired by the amendment now proposed to prevent any further controversy over the question of civil rights.

The Democratic newspapers are manifesting their "grateful memory" of Union soldiers, by their treatment of Col Hawkins—consistently bestowing upon him the endearing terms by which they [illegible] army officers and soldiers during the rebellion, such as "buzzard," "bilk," "hireling," "coward," etc., etc. While the rebellion lasted, Democrats habitually used these and similar opprobrious epithets, most plentifully when the rebels were catching the most severe drubbings By the same token, we know that Col Hawkins is hurting them.

We notice that Jo Smith of Salem, who, it is understood has for some time furnished the leading articles for the Review has this week a two [illegible] article in that paper praising his recent [illegible] at Salem on the occasion when he [illegible] ably [illegible] by Col Hawkins. If [illegible] he has shown his ability [illegible] one on paper. His two col[illegible] Review is certainly a great [illegible]

[illegible] —Here is what the [illegible] last January by direct [illegible] Meara, the Democratic [illegible] still holds the [illegible] has had good opportunity [illegible] —The Statesman says [illegible] trying to trade off their [illegible] Kelly, admitting that [illegible] and rebel." He [illegible] only less politic The [illegible] them, vote for Woods

Proven a Secessionist.

[illegible] that "M H Abbott, on the 17th of January, 1861, was in favor of Illinois declaring herself out of the Union" is one of the lies with which the Oregonian constantly abounds; and no proof has been or can be [illegible] to prove the foul assertion. Let the people have the proof.

Let us see "On the 17th of January, 1861, you M. H. Abbott, secessionist and sneak, published the following which you said editorially, "embraced your views completely."

"In the event of a dissolution of the Union, and the re sumption by the States of the powers delegated by them to the United States [illegible] of the highest and most vital im[illegible] TO THE PEOPLE OF ILLINOIS TO CONSIDER THE PRACTICABILITY AND ADVANTAGE OF A WESTERN CONFEDERACY

Two months later, on the 14th of March, 1861 you, M. H. Abbott, declared that the States had resumed the powers delegated by them to the United States, and that secession was an accomplished fact, These are your words

For our part, we consider the Union dissolved never to be re-united.

Thus by your own words, it appears you deemed the contingency had arrived on which the people of Illinois ought to withdraw from the Union and aid in forming a "Western Confederacy" You first declared that, if the Union was dissolved Illinois should not adhere to the old Government, but enter into a "Western Confederacy," and afterwards you asserted that the dissolution of the Union was accomplished, therefore out of your own mouth you are condemned of having advised Illinois to declare herself out of the Union If these things are untrue, they are not the lies of the OREGONIAN;" their falsity is to be attributed to the Pike County Democrat, from which we have faithfully quoted the above extracts But we repeat again, and we have proven, that M H Abbott, editor of the Oregon Herald, in 1861 was IN FAVOR OF ILLINOIS DECLARING HERSELF OUT OF THE UNION. You asked that the public might have the proof; they have it And now that we have proven you a secessionist, let us hear no more from you about your loyalty during the rebellion. Not another word from your false throat in denial or extenuation of your most treasonable record!

Their "Proud Record."

"It is asserted that the Democracy were not in favor of maintaining the Union; that they opposed the raising of soldiers to put down the rebels. There is not a particle of truth in the statement.—M. H. Abbott in the Herald of April 12th 1866.

Here is the way in which the Democracy favored "the raising of soldiers to put down the rebels" Read what you, M. H Abbott said in the Pike County Democrat in April 1861 when the first call for troops was issued "to put down the rebels" :

The people are ready to respond now, that THEY WILL NOT CONTRIBUTE ONE REGIMENT NOR ONE COMPANY FOR ANY SUCH PURPOSE They will not make war on the South, NOR AID IN THE ATTEMPT TO RETAKE FORT SUMTER, OR ANY OTHER PART IN POSSESSION OF ANY ONE OF THE STATES WHICH HAVE ASSERTED THEIR INDEPENDENCE. They have in every possible way declared their hostility TO COERCION IN ANY FORM and if their (the Democrats) suggestions have not been heeded by Mr Lincoln and his advisers, the fault is with him

Yet the man who wrote this in 1861 now has the shameless mendacity to assert that he has always been a loyal man, that he spoke for "coercion" from the time the States seceded from the Union, and that he did not oppose "the raising of soldiers to put down the rebels" Out upon you! Your record is so full of disloyalty that it infects from the middle to the extremity of the continent Were you on trial for treason, every number of the paper you published in Illinois during those years, would sit as a juror on your life and condemn you hopelessly. You now plead loyalty now!

So do all traitors
If their purgation did consist in words
They are as innocent as grace itself

ALL QUIET AT [illegible].—From passengers who arrived [illegible] on the steamer Nancy Treat yesterday, we learned that the riotous acts of the soldiers there [illegible] been stopped. A detachment from the [illegible] was kept on duty all Tuesday night, and the [illegible] of the place generally were armed, prepared for the worst, [illegible]. A few stragglers only escaped from the [illegible] Tuesday, however, and orders have been [illegible] to the effect that any and all soldiers found guilty of [illegible] prejudicial to good order and discipline will be made to suffer the full penalty of military law. The row [illegible] between the cavalry and infantry, who are not on the most amicable terms toward one another and [illegible] in a hurdy-gurdy [illegible], the shooting [illegible]. Mr. Goldbeck, the City Marshal of Vancouver, was clubbed in the street before the shooting commenced, while in the discharge of his duties in trying to quell the disturbance. It is doubtful about his recovery. Sergeant Ingram, of the 1st United States cavalry—not of the infantry as reported yesterday by telegraph—was [illegible] rallied to Marshal Goldbeck, when he was [illegible] by Jack McDonnell, of the 14th infantry [illegible]. Ingram made his escape, but [illegible] of the garrison word that in case he was [illegible] he would give himself up. The protection was [illegible] and he was lodged in jail to await examination. The saloon in which the row commenced is represented as being a disorderly looking place—not a window left [illegible] for the building, and the entire interior fixtures [illegible]. A clear shadow, about ten feet [illegible] [illegible] as an axil for the [illegible] in the saloon at [illegible] of the fracas. [illegible] soldiers, [illegible] [illegible] must have presented a picture for an [illegible] from the scenes. The saloons were all [illegible], and Tuesday evening but a few of them [illegible] "business" yesterday morning.

[illegible], BOAT BUILDING, ETC.—While on a tour of [illegible] the lower part of the city yesterday we paid [illegible] the bone yard, the place for years past used by [illegible] N. Co. for laying up in ordinary steamers [illegible] of employment in their line, and tearing to [illegible] unseaworthy vessels. At this time the bone [illegible] by three steamers only—the New World, [illegible] and the iron hull Belle. The [illegible] having [illegible] the palmiest of her days, [illegible] likely soon be torn to pieces. Above [illegible] a few steps we found half a dozen [illegible] carpenters at work at the ship yard of Mr. John [illegible] who has now on the stocks, about ready to launch [illegible] craft, 110 feet long, 23 feet beam, and four [illegible] hold, suitable for either a stern wheel or [illegible] steamer, or a barge. When launched this [illegible] will be available for navigation on shallow streams, [illegible] will draw but about from four to ten inches of [illegible]. The Mist is about ready to take to the water, [illegible] light skiffs and a bateaux are being made to [illegible]. A white hall boat 20 feet long built for S. J. [illegible], Esq., named the Annie, has but recently [illegible] on up town we next called in at the steam saw mills of M[illegible] Harbaugh & Stitzel, which have recently been greatly improved and refitted, [illegible] operations to-day. The Willamette Iron Works, the Barrel Factory, Salt Works, etc., were [illegible] fully employed in business, and taking all together, the First Ward is now the scene of considerable [illegible].

[illegible] SPEAKING AT EAST PORTLAND.—In accordance with the following request, we understand Messrs. Dolph [illegible] Upton, Union and Messrs. Grover and Friedenrich, [illegible] etc, will speak at the East Portland School House [illegible] evening next. The Mechanics' Brass Band will be in attendance on the occasion, and all who desire to attend from the west side will be brought back by a [illegible] trip of the ferry boat:

EAST PORTLAND, May 9th, 1866.

Messrs. J. N. Dolph, L. F. Grover, W. W. Upton and David Friedenrich:

GENTLEMEN:—The citizens of East Portland respectfully invite you to speak at their School House on the issues of the day, at a meeting of the Union and Democratic voters of said precinct on Saturday evening next, at seven o'clock P. M. All the candidates, both regular and independent, are invited to attend. Respectfully yours, Jas. B. Stephens, A. M. Loryea, Clinton Kelly, C. G. Bevins, Royal Bros., Barney Trainor, Colburn Barrell, E. Corse, N. Hurford, Brickey & Parker, Jas. S. Royal, [illegible] Gates, Moses Hurd, Wm. Dupee, J. Allen, Ike [illegible] F. Prettyman, and fifty others.

COUNTY COURT—MARQUAM, J., May 9, 1866.—In the case of Davenport vs McQuade, judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $130. In the matter of the estate of Elias [illegible]—A report of the sale of lot 1, [illegible], by M. O'Connor administrator, to Catherine [illegible], for the sum of $2,457 35, was confirmed. On [illegible] of the executors of the estate of C. N. Hunniston, [illegible] was made for the sale of certain personal property. The following [illegible] persons were admitted to [illegible]: Jacob [illegible], Ambrose Burnshub and B[illegible]. Court adjourned sine die.

[illegible]'S COURT.—HOFFMAN, J., May 9th, 1866.—In the case of the State of Oregon vs. Henry Jenkins, assault and battery committed upon Leon Girardin at the Union Hotel in this city, defendant was found guilty, fined $50 and costs and in default sent to the county jail.—In the case of the city of Portland vs. Henry Jenkins, defendant was found guilty of riotous and disorderly conduct, in resisting an officer, and playing [illegible] with whatever happened to come in his way, and was sent to jail in default of payment of $20. [illegible] J. S. Brown, convicted of smashing windows at a house on Second street, was sent to jail for ten days. [illegible] d. d., sent up for two days.

[illegible].—We are under obligations to Messenger Healy of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, for the list of passengers [illegible] by the Orizaba last evening. Since the notorious [illegible], formerly a commander on board the steamship [illegible] of the O. S. N. Company coming to this port, at [illegible] places the list of passengers beyond the reach [illegible], we have only been able to obtain the [illegible] table trouble, and hence we appreciate the favor of Mr. Healy. The same gentleman also has our thanks for a full file of the latest California and Eastern papers.

IT MUST BE STOPPED.—The residents in the First Ward, below D street, have taken decided steps to abate the practice of carting filth, dead animals, etc., into that locality from other sections of the city. At the solicitation of a friend we took a look at the field of these operations yesterday, and were we called to testify with regard to what we have seen, we should say it was an outrage to an [illegible] upon a number of respectable citizens. They say emphatically: It must be stopped—and we agree with them that it ought to be.

ACCIDENT.—In passing a cross walk on one of the improved streets of the city on Tuesday, Mr. George [illegible] was thrown from his wagon and injured considerably by dislocating his left shoulder joint. [illegible] was also injured slightly in an endeavor to render the full [illegible] some [illegible].

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—DEADY, J., May 9th, 1866.—In the case of H. Mansfield vs. the steamship [illegible], suit in Admiralty to recover a trunk of clothing said to have been lost, valued at $1,000, by an agreement of the parties was continued for trial on the 10th, until which time Court adjourned.

LONG DRINKS.—The heated term is now upon us and long drinks are sought in every saloon. The Excelsior soda works are in full operation and Messrs. Ballard & Co. are prepared to meet all demands for ice.

LATE PAPERS.—We are under obligations as usual to McCormick, the popular newsdealer, for files of the latest [illegible] and California papers, pictorials and magazines. [illegible] has enough to supply everybody.

[illegible].—The Brush "monitor" steamed up yesterday [illegible] and cut down river at the top of her speed to some locality unknown to our reporter.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
READ AND REFLECT.
Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain;
The LIVER keep in active play,
And regulate from day to day
Each organ aid on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!
As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
Against the vapors foul prepare
That fever-taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For, when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent;
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the [illegible] ANTIDOTE.
To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore armed with
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
Dyspepsia's pangs that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind;
Agues that as they go and come
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains;
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoeas that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these, though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—a medicine sure
Not to prevent alone, but cure.
In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
To wanderers on sea or land;
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households in the far-off West;
And dwellers in great cities, [illegible]
To soldiers in camp, fort and field
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners [illegible] Calif[illegible] [illegible]
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives, [illegible] fragile [illegible] old,
To young and [illegible], the aged and old;
To those in health who would [illegible]
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the sinewless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.
If there is any value in public opinion or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

S. T.—1860.—X.
Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated
PLANTATION BITTERS,
Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhoea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.
Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. law and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Killed at the Ford

BY H. W. LONGFELLOW

He is dead, the beautiful youth,
The heart of honor, the tongue of truth,—
He, the life and light of us all,
Whose voice was blithe as a bugle call,
Whom all eyes followed with one consent,
The cheer of whose laugh, and whose pleasant word,
Hushed all murmurs of discontent.

Only last night as we rode along
Down the dark of the mountain gap,
To visit the picket guard at the ford,
Little dreaming of any mishap,
He was humming the words of some old song:
"Two red roses he had on his cap
And another he bore at the point of his sword."

Sudden and swift a whistling ball
Came out of a wood, and the voice was still;
Something I heard in the darkness fall,
And for a moment my blood grew chill;
I spake in a whisper, as he who speaks
In a room where some one is lying dead;
But he made no answer to what I said.

We lifted him up on his saddle again,
And through the mire and the mist and the rain
Carried him back to the silent camp,
And laid him as if asleep on his bed;
And I saw by the light of the surgeon's lamp
Two white roses upon his cheeks,
And one just over his heart blood red!

And I saw in a vision how far and fleet
That fatal bullet went speeding forth,
Till it reached a town in the distant North,
Till it reached a house in a sunny street,
Till it reached a heart that ceased to beat
Without a murmur, without a cry;
And a bell was tolled in that far-off town,
For one who had passed from cross to crown,—
And the neighbors wondered that she should die.

—Atlantic for April

Letter from Baker County

BAKER CITY, OGN., April 29, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We have had an unusually early spring, quite a month earlier than a year ago, and farmers hereabout are fully in earnest plowing, sowing and fencing. There is not in the State of Oregon another valley that offers the same inducements to farmers that this valley does at this time. One individual near this place informed me (and I do not doubt it), that he cleared a hundred dollars an acre for every acre sown in oats last season, his crop of twenty-five acres averaging eighty bushels to the acre.

BAKER CITY,

Situated on main Powder river, opposite Colonel Ruckel's quartz mill, is fast building up, and is destined to be the largest town between Umatilla and Boise City, in a very few years. Situated in as good a farming region, with a climate in the winter far more pleasant than Grand Ronde, more easy of access in winter and early spring from the mining regions of Auburn, Burnt River, Mormon Basin and Boise, together with the fact that the Dealy and Meacham roads come together here, I think justifies the opinion that Baker City is to be the winter depot for a great part of the above named camps.

MINING OPERATIONS

Began in Auburn at least a month earlier this season than last. Some of the miners there are doing very well. One company from one week's run cleaned up $12,200, another $3,000, while many are doing well who, owing to the price of water previously, were unable to work their ground successfully.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

There has been very little stir in political matters this spring. The Union men, however, are fully awake and are determined to show their brethren in the older counties, that if they do not carry the county next June it shall not be their fault, but because Price's Pea Ridge veterans were too numerous for them. The Union men are well pleased with the State nominations. Woods is well known here, and will run as well as any other man. Mallory, although not so well known, is acknowledged even by the opposition, to be so much above O'Fay, in point of talent and dignity, that I believe some of the old-time Democrats will support him. Indeed, a prominent citizen of this place, the day after the several candidates spoke here (they were here on the 27th), said that he had been a Democrat all his life, but if Fay was the best material the party could find to send to Congress, he was done with them.

O'Fay became so excited over some allusions to his political record, read by Mr. Mallory from the Jacksonville Sentinel, that he appeared even to forget the respect due a respectable audience, and with an aged minister of the gospel as chairman, used profane language during his agonizing and fruitless efforts to disentangle himself from the foul meshes of secession Democracy. At one time in his address he became indignant over the imputation of his opponent, that secession was a dogma of the Democratic party, and raising himself upon tip-toe demanded, "Why, if secession is part of the Democratic creed, have they not seceded long ago—

(A voice)—Because they couldn't.

O'Fay—Because they couldn't—how do you know they couldn't?

(Voice)—Because they tried for four years and we would not let them.

The Union men here are pleased with our State and County nominations, and had we had the privilege of choosing our opponents, we would in most instances have chosen the same individuals they have nominated. We expect to elect our county ticket, and give a sufficient majority for the State ticket to overcome the small majority the Cops may have in Union county.

Much is said now-a-days by the Cops about the split in the Union party. I will just say that here there is no split. I do not know a single Union man in this county that supports President Johnson. J. A. F.

The President's Policy in North Carolina—Its Deplorable Failure.

[From the Raleigh Standard of March 29th.]

The Nashville Press of the 20th of March says: "A citizen of this State has spent some time in Washington, and conversed at length with President Johnson. The President is not at all pleased with the conduct of the Southern politicians, newspapers, Conventions and Legislatures. On the contrary he is highly displeased with them. He went to the utmost verge of generosity in order to encourage the rebel leaders to repent and act as national men. He says the Southern States have not done their duty. He has laid down his requirements to the Virginia delegation, and requested them to elect loyal men to Congress, who could take the test oath and support the laws. This they had stubbornly refused to do; and if the rebels persisted in this foolish and wicked course they would have to take the consequences, and he would not interfere in their behalf again. A reaction on the part of the President is close at hand, and he will, if trifled with much longer by the rebels, deal them a terrible blow."

We have felt sure all along that this was the position of the President. We know that in no event would he desert the Union men of the insurgent States. He has been "trifled with," and in this respect there is no improvement, or prospect of improvement with the secession leaders. They will go on from bad to worse. In this State for example, three candidates for Congress were defeated because they could take the oath; and some of those who were elected declared they could not take the oath if they would, and would not if they could. This declaration materially increased their vote. Governor Worth, during the last session of the Legislature having been requested by the Secretary of the Treasury to designate persons for the offices of Assessor and Collector of the Internal Revenue who could take the oath, instead of shouldering the responsibility himself, referred the matter to members of the Legislature, secessionists included, and the secessionists of the First Congressional District refused to recommend any one who could take the oath. D. D. Ferebee, since appointed by Governor Worth to an important State office, was conspicuous, as we learn, in refusing to recommend any one who could take the oath. We learn also that the Legislature removed at least one-half of the loyal Justices of the Peace appointed by the Provisional Governor, and filled their places with rampant secessionists. The Provisional Governor appointed Mayors and Commissioners, loyal men, for some twenty or thirty towns, and as fast as elections for these offices have taken place, under the administration of Governor Worth, these loyal men are being ousted, and secessionists and latter day war men put in their place. Thus it is that the entire work of the President in reorganizing this State is being rapidly swept away.

We rejoice at the above declaration of the President. We trust he will act, and act promptly. Let the "blow" fall. It cannot come too soon.

The secession leaders very readily yielded slavery, and agreed to declare the acts of secession null and void. They knew that slavery was hopelessly gone, and nothing which they could do would save it; and, so far as secession was concerned, they had told the people, up to the last moment, in 1860, that they were opposed to it, and so, after it failed and when it became popular to repudiate it, they did so very promptly. Many of them now deny that they ever were secessionists; but charge that the real secessionists are the old Union Democrats like President Johnson and the senior editor of this journal. No, everything went on smoothly until the President's plan of reorganization touched their pockets by the requirement that the rebel debt shall be ignored, and stimulated their ambition by the necessity which arose for filling the offices. This debt, which had been wrung from the tears and blood of a suffering people, was for the most part in the hands of these leaders, and they wanted to tax the people for many generations to pay it. The President said no. They could not wreak their vengeance directly on him, because they feared him, but they turned on his representatives and peculiar friends, and struck at him through them—the peculiar friends of the Union, to perform the work of reorganization. They could abolish slavery and repudiate secession, but this was too much for them. They would as soon be dead as be out of office. The result is before the country. The cause of restoration has been suddenly arrested; the State has been set back to the point it occupied when the work was commenced, and no one can foresee when the work will be completed. The generosity of the President has been trifled with and the good he desired to do this people has been neutralized by these leaders, who have been actuated solely by the love of money and office. How long will it be before they are rebuked as they should be and made to know their places.

The Treasonable Secret Societies of the Democratic Party of Oregon.

THE OLD GUARD, ETC.

From the developments made by the police officers of the United States Government in Oregon, we make the following extract of the organization and objects of the Democratic secret societies in this State. The history of the matter is brought down to the date of the re-organization of these societies, under the name of "THE JONES FAMILY," about the 1st of January, 1865. The secret signs, grips, pass words, cypher and alphabet of the "Jones Family" have also been secured, but we cannot produce them in the paper without the aid of an engraver. The purpose and object of the "Joneses" were the same as that of "The Old Guard," and the statement of the one is substantially that of the other.

NAME.

The order is known by different names in different places, to suit various localities. "The Golden Circle," "The Friends of the Union," and "The Old Guard" are among the titles used—the last is the one generally adopted in Oregon.

OBJECT.

To put down Lincoln's administration, to resist the draft, if an attempt should be made to enforce it, and to improve the first favorable opportunity of erecting a "Pacific Republic" out of the States and Territories of this coast.

ORGANIZATION.

The order has the following officers: For the State a "Grand Master," for each county, a "Deputy Grand Master;" for each precinct, a "Master;" a Grand Secretary and Deputy Grand Secretaries, a Grand Treasurer and Deputy Grand Treasurers. There are also Watchmen whose business it is to guard against detection during meetings.

A man named Woods, lately from the Atlantic States, was the agent for this State, and was present at the State Fair of 1863, and initiated several members there.

HISTORY.

The order was originated by Mason and Slidell, in France, and was disseminated throughout the Eastern and Western States in 1864, soon after the return of Vallandigham to Ohio. Vallandigham was the Grand Master in Ohio. It was brought to California in 1864, and introduced into Oregon in the fall of 1864, by the man Woods referred to before, assisted by another man whose name is not now remembered by the witness.

NAMES OF KNOWN MEMBERS.

We have secured the names of a large number of Democrats who were leading members of the order. The Jones Family was organized in Polk county by a Copperhead lawyer of Salem. Wm. Hall, Democratic candidate for Representative, and Joseph Leggett, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, on the Polk county ticket, are reported members of this Old Guard, and also of the Jones Family. On the Democratic State ticket, the following gentlemen are known to have been members of both those last named organizations, viz: JAMES D. FAY, Democratic candidate for Congress; JAMES O'MEARA, Democratic candidate for State Printer; LAFAYETTE LANE, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State.

METHOD OF OPENING LODGE.

Grand Master calls the house to order, occupies the chair, stations sentinels, and conducts business after the usual manner of deliberative bodies.

TEST OF MEMBERSHIP.

Applicants must answer affirmatively this question, before initiation: "Are you willing to resist the draft and assist in putting down the Administration?" Each member must take an oath to resist the draft, to assist in subverting Lincoln's administration, etc. He is then required to arm himself with a good rifle, musket or shot gun (the latter preferred), a revolver, and forty rounds of ammunition—more if possible.

SIGNS, PASSWORDS, ETC.

Street Sign.—Thumbs extended on breast of coat. Question, "Have you read the Old Guard?" Answer, "Which Guard?" Question, "The one published by C. Chauncy Burr?" Answer, "Ney." Question, "What Ney?" Answer, "The commander of the Old Guard." This grip is then taken: The little finger of each right hand, separating the remaining fingers and the thumbs pressed across the knuckles of each hand.

Other Signs.—To recognize a brother anywhere: stroke the moustache twice with the two first fingers of the right hand closed against the thumb; answered by a gentle scratch behind the hair with the right hand. Question, "Were you out last night?" answer, "I were;" question, "Did you see that lone star?" answer, "I did;" "Which way did it point?" "To the southwest;" "Right Brother." Here the grip as above described is given.

Military Signs.—Hat raised and slightly flourished with the right hand: answered by raised hat and then slowly pressing it down with the right hand.

In the Field.—A rammer drawn and returned with a flourish over the right shoulder.

A member of the order endangered makes himself known by asking the question, "Is it a constitutional act?" and is answered by a brother, if there be one present, "Yes; the Constitution forever."

MISCELLANEOUS.

When the time comes for congregating, preparatory to aggressive operations, notice is given to the members of the order by the Grand Master, or by any members informed of the fact, going among the members and repeating the word "Away" several times.

To ascertain the number of troops in either army, after making the sign with the ramrod and receiving an answer, a picket in the rebel army asks, "How many mules have you?" Picket from the Union lines substitutes the word "cattle."

In Oregon, the order numbered about 2,600 members. In California, 40,000; in Idaho, about 6,000. They are better organized in Idaho than anywhere else.

Arms have recently been imported into Oregon for the order, all the money in the treasury having been used for that purpose. They drill by night in all the lodges.

WHAT THEY DID.

To carry out the treasonable object of these societies, and involve the peaceful State of Oregon in all the horrors of civil war, and to burn your towns and murder law-abiding men, these secret conspirators had purchased and secreted arms as follows: 150 guns at the barn of one Jonathan Edmont or Edmonson, near Eugene; 114 guns at the barn of a man named Reeder, near the county line between Linn and Lane; the lodge at McDonald's ferry on the Santiam, consisted of eighty men, and they were all armed. A schooner brought these guns from Victoria, in long boxes marked "shovels," which were distributed in Polk county, the number not ascertained. They had a regularly established mail, with appointed carriers, which connected with every lodge in the State once in two weeks. More of this terrible record of conspiracy, against the lives, property, and peace, of the people of Oregon, may be expected in the next issue.—Oregon Statesman.

CLEARLY STATED.—The following paragraph from an article in the Sacramento Union contains a clear statement of the differences which have arisen at Washington and what occasioned them. Read:

When Military Governor Johnson began to rebuild the fabric of civil government in Tennessee, he seemed to be firmly resolved to make a clean job of it. After proclaiming the total abolition of bondage, he declared that loyal men alone should govern the preserved republic. Acting upon this idea, he framed a stringent test oath which no rebel could take, allowed none but Union men to vote and thus secured his patriotic friends in political authority. The first important act of the new Legislature of Tennessee disfranchised those who participated in the rebellion, and all prominent rebels were declared ineligible to office. This was Andrew Johnson's way of reconstructing his own State. It was a good way. It was endorsed by the Union party. It was approved by the merciful, but wise and faithful Lincoln. The result is that power remains in Union hands. Johnson, as President, on the other hand, reconstructed the rest of the insurgent States with rebel suffrage. The Tennessee model mired down in North Carolina. Hence all our political woe. The President has been trying to persuade a wide awake country that the new Governments in the cotton States are all of the Tennessee pattern, when the fact is, they are as different from the original model as treason is from loyalty. Congress thinks the Nashville creed of Johnson the saving faith of the nation, adopts it, and puts it before the people again in contrast with the policy which, in the Carolinas and the Gulf States has silenced the lips of patriotism and erected monuments in honor of treason. And it is between these two essentially different plans of reconstruction that the sovereign people must choose. It depends upon the popular decision this year whether we are to have a loose league of States, two-thirds loyal and free, and the other third Confederate and caste ridden, or a Union in which loyalty and liberty shall be supreme and secure every where—the Union of the Copperhead's sinister dream, or the Union for which three hundred thousand of our braves laid down their lives.

In a poster announcing a benefit for a juvenile military corps of an interior town, we find the following queer programme: "During the entertainment a flag will be presented to the company by a young lady made expressly for the occasion."

A RELIC OF THE WAR OF 1812.—The Ajax, on her last trip, brought to this port a most interesting relic of the last war with Great Britain in the shape of a Marquesan fan. This fan was received by United States Commissioner McBride, at the Sandwich Islands, from a high chief of the Island of Nuka Hiva, who through a Mr. Lawson sends it as a present to the President of the United States. The fan, which is of large size, is said to have been in the hands of a chief during an engagement between the forces of Commodore Porter and the Nuka Hiwanans in 1814, when a musket ball pierced its edge. It had previously been considered as a sacred fan, and was used in battle between contending tribes as an invocative to victory for the party who possessed it, but in the engagement between Commodore Porter's force and the natives its talismanic virtues proved worthless. As a curiosity the fan is worthy of examination, the handle being made from the thigh bone of a human being, ingeniously carved, and the fan part of a straw similar to that in Panama hats braided to the required size.—Bulletin, April 23.

The Vallandigham family entertain feelings of admiration, not to say love, for the negro race in general, the female sex in particular, that is incredible. The race has furnished the stock in trade and the speech inspiring theme of the Ohio martyr for a number of years. But the younger members of the family outstrip him in their affection for the poor, downtrodden African. [illegible] Vallandigham, "a youth to fortune and to fame unknown," but nevertheless a nephew of the great Ohio martyr, is married to and lives with a negro woman in this city. His brother, living on the opposite side of the river, is also married to a negress.—[illegible] Journal.

SOMETHING NEW AND NOVEL.—A PATENT APPLIED FOR.—Mr. Hendee has invented an article by which he can take any number of Head Pictures on the same plate without the subject getting up from the chair; can get different positions of the head and all sizes of heads; can put a half dozen heads on the space of a half dollar; can put a whole family of heads on a common size card, and will sell pictures cheaper than any other Gallery on this coast. Has the process for taking the new and beautiful style picture called the Porcelain or Sun Pearl so much talked of in San Francisco; also has engaged a man from that place who has been taking these pictures in San Francisco.

Mr. H. is now prepared to do as good work and in as great variety of style as any Gallery in Portland. Orders for full portrait size of photograph will be promptly attended to. ap18d1ptf

HOW NATURAL, AND YET HOW AGREEABLE it is to enjoy the comforts of a good bed to rest his or her weary limbs upon, and I can say from experience that there is no style of bed that compares with the MOULTON SPRING BED BOTTOM, BROMLEY'S PATENT, for Health and Comfort, Durability and Cheapness, can be attached to any bedstead and does not get out of order. The model of this bed is there can be seen at HENDEE'S PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY and orders taken for all that may wish to purchase. Also the full size bed in working order can be seen and had on short notice at Mr. Wilcox's Furniture Store on Front street, near the bridge. Price—Double-Bed, $10; Single-Bed, $7.

Mr. Hendee will take by his New Invention Head Pictures for $3 00 per dozen. Will be at his Rooms from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. my3d1m

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Experience is of forty years standing, and during that time has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as

Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar; some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self-Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering. Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Hands, [illegible], Aversion to Genial Society, especially that of [illegible]. There are a great many more, but these are [illegible] and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system, the constitution being restored to perfect health, so that there may be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more [illegible] character than that seen in the Atlantic States, [illegible] arising from the fact of its being a compound of the Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those who have visited the two latter countries no doubt [illegible] the dreadful effects of it on both the native and [illegible] population. It requires altogether different [illegible] treatment.
